

Severely depressed - now has peace

Life

Astrid - Netherlands

Because of my severe depression, my mother started searching for the Lord. She was convinced that only God could prevent my depression from becoming fatal.

After a long search she finally heard the true gospel.

I knew that I had to obey the word of God and in May 2008 I was born again. Since that day I have peace and certainty and am able to offer this to others.

I know that I can always count on God in everything. I pray and God answers. The power of God is inconceivably great, whereby I can handle all situations. It gives me a peace within which others around me can see.

I have had an instant healing from an ear infection and fever.

We have a great God. I praise Him for everything that He does for us. I hope I can do a lot more for Him.
